COP-OUT

'COP-OUT' is a magazine for rank and file radical policemen as fed up with their role as agents of social control as with the conditions of their work.

We recognise that ultimately the function of the policeman is to protect the ruling class and its property. But we believe that it is too simple for policemen who realise this to quit the force and leave it to the racists and other bigots. That way we would be abdicating our responsibility as revolutionaries to raise the consciousness of our fellow work-mates, as well as our 'clients', as to the repressive nature of the force. We therefore base our organisation on the following 6-point programme:

I. The right to withdraw our labour,
2. Community control of the police,
3. The right to abstain from police duties at picket-lines and demonstrations,
4. 50% wage rise, ten weeks annual leave with a 35-hr week.
5. Abolition of police uniforms and weapons.
6. The replacement of police numbers with name-plates.

Whilst we realise that the present leadership of the N.S.W. Police is incapable of struggling for these demands, the majority of policemen are not aware of this. We therefore act as a pressure group to expose the leadership when they fail to put our demands into effect.

BRISBANE, Australia: Six destitute pensioners were rescued in a raid on a slave-labor camp September 20th. At least 200 male and female tramps had lived at the camp, where they worked seven days a week from dawn to dusk on logging and agricultural work. They had all been recruited by members of an affluent family.

The Driver that Stole Cargo

-- Bob Ro gers and his Fuck Off Boys.

It was on that summer evenin',
Full moon behind the clouds,
    At another boring truck stop 'long the way.
She said "I'm sick of endless bitumen,
Freight I never see,
    And this lonely driving nowhere day to day."

(Chorus) The driver that stole cargo
    Is on her way back home,
        Somewhere headed east on nighway 9.
    Someday will she get her chance
    To steal back her own life,
        And all the joys that she had been denied?

HA!

And as she drove she thought of all those
She'd pass along the way,
    And she knew how much she'd like to see their smiles.
Imagining, like New Year's Eve,
Their festive spirits free...
...Soon she couldn't pass another mile.

The driver that stole cargo
Is on her way back home,
So she pulled into the nearest town
And opened up her truck,
    Brought out a couple cases of ice cream,
The children were the first
To gather 'round her in delight,
    But soon the whole town looked like her dream.

SPOKEN

With music and with dancing, now,
The town-folk shared their joy.
    They realized their love, their faces glowed.
The celebration still was growin',
As the driver knew it would,
    When she drove on to the next town down the road.

(Chorus)

HA! HA! HA!

A few towns on she realized
She was runnin' from the law,
    But by the time they found the truck she'd flown.
So now she's got another name,
And's a-waitin' for the day
    When the world that we create will be our own.

(Chorus) The driver that stole cargo
    Is on her way back home,
        Somewhere headed east on highway 9.
    Someday will she get her chance
    To steal back her own life,
        And all the joys that she had been denied?
    Someday, she'll get her chance
    To steal back her own life,
    When the world that we create we make our own!

Ha! Ha! Ha!

CITIZENS SEIZE BAND

Australians cannot bear to see a natural resource left unused, or rationed by the government. So it has been through history with the land, the gold, and now . . . the ether. Today Australia's radio 'pirates' number 70 - 80,000 according to one of their spokesmen, 20,000 by Government figures. Without waiting for permission from the lawmakers, they have carved out their own Citizen's Band on the American model. They have met surprisingly little opposition. Now they are waiting for Canberra to put the stamp of legal approval on the situation which already exists. Tony Durham reports from down under.

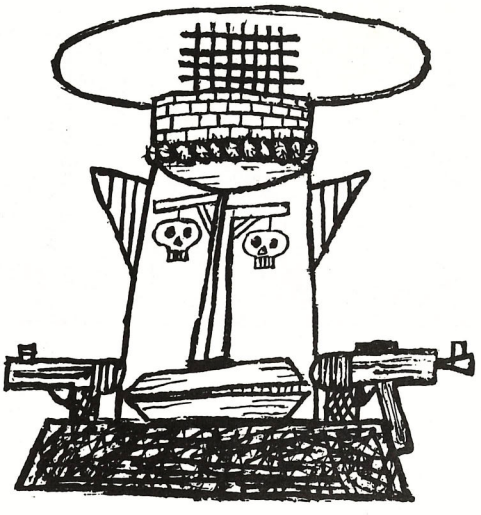
HIERARCHS HATCHET HELLENIC HERETICS



Tuesday I8/I0: Some groups denounce the assassination of Baader, Enslin & Raspe in front of the Polytechnic School of Athens, a place considered as a University asylum, at 7 p.m. When the police arrives, they have already gone to Propylaea taking their loudspeakers with them. Some individuals are still in front of the Polytechnic School, discussing about the news at that traditional place of free political discussion. At 7.30 p.m. a group of cops in civil cloths go to a group of ten persons who are discussing there, and arrest without any pretext the well known anarchist publisher Christos Konstantinidis, 28 years, a member of the group of the "Diethnis Bibliothiki" editions.

It is a well-established police practise that somebody is arrested witha ridiculous pretext (usually invented afterwards), savagely beaten and then accused among other things (injuriesetc.) that he resisted to his arrest, on the basis of the law on "resistance to authority", passed in I976 by the parliamentary regime, which implies a minimum of I years imprisonment. Concerning the preferance of the police for the person of Konstantinidis, it should be noted that he has been a basic target of repression for many years. He has been arrested many times without any pretext and was twice brought to trial with heavy charges. The first of these times he was arrested in front of the court judging the case of Rolph Pole's extradiction to Germany; he put immediatly his hands in his pockets, as a photo clearly showed, in order to avoid the charge that he beat the policemen; he was thus charged of having "kicked from behind in a wily way" (!) a highly placed police officer! He was finally acquitted of all charges at the trial in appeal. The 2nd time on May '77, the police invaded his house breaking the door, and arrested and savagely beat all those who were there and a few minutes later Konstantinidis himself outside the house. After that the police searched the house for more than one hour and a half. The pretext; "they made noise" all the 7 were acquitted of all charges (noise, resistanse injuries etc.), the police failing to produce before the court the supposed citizens who had denounced the'noise', despite the dimensions given to this affair (the press presented those who officially'made noise" in a house where nothing incriminating had been found after a thorough search, as terrorists!). The procurator appealed against the decision and, at a second trial, Konstantinidis got 40 days under suspension for the "noise" and some'injuries'.

It can thus be easily understood why Konstantinidis, once more,put his hands in his pockets and offered no resistance. Just some cries of indignation could be heard. However, the specialised riot police attacked blindly in front of the Polytechnic School and began beating anybody(Which isquite usual in Greece). For a half an hour the police terror reigns and spares nobody. Arrest of Michalis Sirpos, 20 years, worker. At about 9 p.m. a demonstration of protest is formed by 200 anarchists; it is immediatly attacked by the police and dispersed. Arrest of George Tsachtsiris, I7 years employee, Panayiotis Mantzouranis, I7 years, highschool pupil, and Sofia Panagiotidou, I7 years, also a highschool pupil.

"I don't know nuffink about it.
I just get the needles ready you know and do what he says.
If you do what he says you'll be alright. We get on alright because I'm Hungarian and so is he. So if he want to tell me somethink he just tell me in Hungarian so they don't know what he says. I don't know how he'll talk to you. I never done no trainin' or nuffink. He showed me how to do it. I used to work in a shop before. He asked me to do it for him one day when his last nurse left. I'll be sorry to go in some ways.

Me Dad used to work for him too.

After you've given them the treatment, you get his dinner ready. He like his dinner on time. I cook him Hungarian food because I'm Hungarian. He like that. I don't know what you can cook him. Maybe some rice-o-riso or somethink like that.

I don't know what sort a treatment it is. He told me it's to massage their brains so I guess that's what it does. He always put them to sleep first anyway. There's some instant potato there too. He like that and cold tea. I make it up at night and put it in the fridge. I'll show you what he want put in the needles in a minute. As soon as I've finished doin' these dishes. Jeeze they leave a mess after group therapy. Wouldn't hurt them any to soak the cups after them would it?

Here come one of them now. They all know where to go by themselves. They've been comin' for months some of them for as long as I've been here. They just go to the same bed.

I been here for about a year now. I like it but it's not the sort of think I'd like to do for the rest of my life you know? I think I'd like to be a Customs Officer or a policewoman or somethink like that.

That's Isabella. She come every day because she's homesick or somethink like that. Most of them what come here are only migrants anyway. She get depressed because she don't like livin' in Australia and she want to go home to Chile. Most of them don't like livin' in Australia. She get the treatment every day. I'd better tell her to put out her cigarette or the doctor'll get real angry if he smell it. It make his curtains stink. He don't like people to smoke because it make his curtain stink. He's funny like that. Doctor speak in her language cause he spent a long time in souf america.

Trudie's come. He don't like her. She's German. Once he called her somethink terrible in Hungarian. Jeeze it was awful. Just as well she couldn't understand. I don't know why she come. It's a bit funny a German comin' to a Jew. Jeeze if I was a German I wouldn't. She's always tryin' to talk to him too. She told me once that she was that desperate and he was her last resort or she'd be in a nut house. I reckon she ought a be in a nut house myself. You ought a hear her talk about the doctor. Helpin' her find a new direction and helpin' her find the meanin' of her life. Jeeze half the time he don't even want to see her. She does all sort of funny thinks too. See that. How she's lyin' on the bed. Meditatin' she call it and yoga. I mean why doesn't she just wash up and iron or somethink like everyone else does? No wonder she get depressed all the time. He says she doesn't think of anyone but herself. He said she's just real selfish. That's all that's wrong with her. Plain selfish. If she want a do somethink about her depression she ought a do more for her family instead of all that yoga. Anyway she's back again. She didn't come for a while. She thought she was cured and then she and her daughter had a fight and her daughter left home and she had no one to talk to no more so she had a come back. You'd think if they was gonna live here they'd learn to speak some English wouldn't you? But she don't know none. You got a watch her too, she's got a fungus all over her face from kissin' the dogs so you got a turn her pillow over after she's used it so no one else'll get it.

You change the beds once a week if you got enough linen. If not don't worry about it. I don't. I make most of them lie on tops of the beds so all you have to do is pull the quilt up. Jeeze will you look at my uniform. I didn't realize it was that dirty. I only got two and I try to make them last the week. White gets dirty real quick don't it?

I finished in here so I'll take you to the treatment room and show you where it is.

This is where we

The treatment, which consists of Electroconvulsive Therapy is a combination chop-suey of the traditional Electroconvulsive Therapy (ECT) and Suite Force followed with great skill in amongst the patients of the "Happy" have a cold clear that other people for remain Zombies administration of this therapy will do great possession, the like themselves and in ignorance of even the most fundamental possible ECT in living, of snuffing your own of heat.

keep everythink. You clean it up every so often and take out the garbage. The bins is outside. You do up about ten needles for a start. You check the list out with the secretary. They got a see her first to pay so you know how many is comin' and if there is any new ones from the receipts. You usually get about I5 or so in the morning and about 20 or so in the afternoons. It get that rushed. You put two thinks in the needles- the valium and the epontal.

He always put the valium in first. I don't know why he do it like that He just does so I do it too. The forcepts is broken so I just use my fingers to pick the thinks up with. I0 milligrammes. It make them go to sleep real quick and then he give them the treatment. I never knew that. Like when you get your appendix out or somethink. Jeeze. You have to be that quick when the treatment start. It's better to have them all ready. You fill your pockets up with bandaides too. You go thru dozens of the bloody thinks. Hardly any of them have got a decent vein left. Not on their feet or nothink. He get that mad sometimes his hands shake. Then he tell them they aren't tryin' and they're makin' him mad. Sometime when he can't find a vein he give them what he call his cocktail. When he do that he don't give them the treatment usually. I think it depend a lot of how he feel. Him and her fight somethink dreadful and he come in here and give them hell. He curse and swear jeeze. Sometime I think he go overboard but I wouldn't say nuffink. It's not my place is it?

I dunno what he put in it I never looked. Can't make head nor tail of all that latin stuff anyhow. Just bits and pieces of all that stuff up on the shelf up there. Sometime he mix it with the valium and epontal. He says it don't hurt them none just keep them quiet. They come every day. Yeah Trudie too. Most of them work. Just in hotels and factories and thinks so after they have the treatment they go back to work I suppose. Jeeze I dunno I never asked. There's a new one comin' in today She had a consultation yesterday. The secretary showed me the file. This one worked apparantly for I7 years in the same job and now she's lost it and she's that depressed now because she can't find another one. She's been looking for months she said. Too old I suppose find another one. She's been looking for months she said. Too old I suppose she's in her 40's. She's not married neither so I suppose there's an explanation if you're lookin' for one. I"m gettin' married soon to my financee. Mum said I can't get married until I'm I8. He probably won't do a treatment on her today. He'll just give her the needles and see how she go first. If that don't work, he'll give her the treatment tomorrow.

They're all pretty good really. You only got one who play up and that's John. He's a Yugoslav and he come after school with his mother. You got a hold his hand because he's that scared of the doctor. I dunno why he's that scared it's not like the doctor done anythink to him or nuffink. He yell at him a lot and shove him on the bed once but that's nuffink is it? Not for him to carry on the way he do, shakin' and tremblin' and sometime the injection don't even knock him out. So the doctor don't do no treatment on him then, he just send him home. His mother don't speak no English or nuffink so its lucky the doctor speak Yugoslav. You got a laugh. He walk real funny he does. His legs and arms go all over the place. Doctor says he's awful retarded. I suppose he ought to be in a Home but you try and tell them Yugoslavs anythink. You just never know with Yugoslavs. Real knife happy they are. My old boyfriend Streaky? I was that upset the other night. Some of them Yugoslav hoons well they got Streaky and poured petrol on him and put him on fire. Just as well Streaky had been out on his bike and still had his jacket on and everythink. They didn't hurt him much but I was that upset. I went to my financee's place and I was shakin that much that I got into bed with him because I was that scared and that upset. We're gonna visit Streaky tonight. His eyes is all screwed up and his hands is funny lookin' so Mum said. You can never trust a Yugoslav. You just dunno with them. He come every day too. Most of them do.

That's Julie. She's been comin' for a while. Yeah she come every day too. Doctor says she don't know how to stand up for herself. She got no defences against no one. They walk all over her and she get really depressed about it because she don't want them to. Her sister's a real bitch to her apparantly. Always wanting to know why she don't have a baby yet when she's been married for two years. They're savin' for a house. Her treatment is different from everyone else's.

a book about it and her how she goes on it and stuff. The secretary types it up in her spare time. He give her epontal and valium after the insulin and then he give her the treatment. You got a remember to give her a cup of coffee with about 8 sugars in it after the treatment. I forgot one day I was that rushed gettin' his dinner and the doctor was that mad. He says I could of caused a lot of trouble. I suppose you could say she's in a coma when you think of it, she hardly breaves.

I suppose it seem like a lot to do but you learn everythink as you go along. I knew nuffink about this job when I first come but jeeze I've learned such a lot since I been here. You got no idea. I'll be sorry to leave in some ways you know. You sort of get to like it. I didn't when I first started.

You have a cook the patients lunch too. If got a go to. I suppose a lot of them drive if you think about it, but then none of them have had no accidents or anythink that I know of. I mean they always turn up the next day. It don't seem to affect them much. If you can get them out quick you can have everythink ready for the afternoon before the doctor want his lunch. Then you get a chance to have somethink yourself.

Some days Julie play up a bit. She start cryin' and sayin' she's too tired to move or walk or somethink. You give her some more coffee with lots of sugar in it. If that don't work you got a be firm with her and tell her to cut it out. She get real bad some days cryin' and fallin' on the floor and sayin' she want to speak to the doctor cause she want to know what's happenin' to her, and she won't take no notice of you until he come and talk to her and tell her and thinks. Well if she get WEDNESDAY 19/10:The press shamelessly presents thise arrested as "terrorists", attempting to create a climate of opinion that will permit heavy condemnations of the usual police fabricated charges (injuies, resistance etc.). The daily papers which are specialised in the fabrication of lies and calomniations, talk about an "international anarchist plan for the provocation of agitation" etc., starting an endless serial which will comprise all sorts of monstrous fabrications "(Carlos has been seen in Athens", Konstantinidis was visited by two german lawyers of the R.A.F." etc.).

Two more demonstrations at the afternoon. The one, at Thessaloniki, has been organised by an "unofficial" Maoist group; some anarchists take part. It is encicled by the police which begins to arrest people without any warning or incident. 13 people are chosen up and arrested. The second, at Athens, comprises 600 anarchists. It is very militant and has organised very well in its self-defence. It disperses by itself in due time and nobody is arrested. On the contary, Stavroula Langadinou, 18 years, pupil of a technical school, is arrested half an hour after the dispersion of the demonstration.

You give her the insulin first. 40 milligrammes and you use one of the disposable syringes for it. No she's not a diabetic or nuffink. No she eat alright she don't look as if she's starvin' or nuffink. No he don't give it to her for that. He told me that he was the only one who done it and that no one else was interested in his methods at all so he just carry on all by himself. He's writtin' there isn't enough and Doctor has invited his friends over for lunch, you just give them half the cabbage roll each or somethink and save the rest for the doctor. You'll get the hang of it. Most of them go straight home after the treatment. They don't stay more than half an hour or somethink like that. It give you a chance to tidy up a bit before the next lot come. Most of them a got jobs they that bad you can pretend you told him or you can tell him if you want to. Most times he don't bother to come. He don't want to have much to do with them anyhow. He says doin' all the treatments make him tired so he usually lie down to rest before lunch and he says he don't want to be bothered with no patients anyhow. He's got a relax. You just have to use your judgement on what sort of mood he's in.

I forgot to tell you, you have to clean all the house too. He used to have a cleanin' woman but she was Spanish or somethink and she didn't want to pay no tax on the money so they had a fight and now I do it all. I don't mind I like doin' the cleanin' and usin' the polisher and thinks like that. I'm goin' to get married pretty soon to my financee so I need the practice. Just so I do everythink right. His wife come in for dinner too sometimes. He don't tell you when they come you just have a get it ready when they do. He don't bother telling you.

You won't like her. She come from Poland. No one like her. The account- ant no one. You'll find out when you meet her. She'll be in today because you're here.

You have your lunch break after he has everythink he want. You won't get much time to eat today because he want all his light fittin's cleaned before the treatments this after- noons. The first lot come pretty early so you don't get that much time after all the washing up and thinks. Also you got a clean all the glass doors and everythink like that.

He's not that bad to work for. I mean you get paid every week and thinks like that. He let you go early to sometimes when he can't find you anything else to do. Though most days you don't go till after six there's that much to do. you also got a be here about 8 or so to have everythink ready for him when he come.

He don't like you to vacuum in front of them, he says it look bad.

You see her goin' in that room there. That Andree. She's a prostitute. So are her daughters well they all got tattoos anyhow. She tried to do it outside their home and he caught her talkin' to some blokes there out the front. Jeeze. You should of heard him when he brought her in. Doctor told him that it was just because she was depressed. Like he was.

We get a few like that what the relatives bring in but mainly the doctor he get his patients from Crisis Centre or Lifeline or some- think like that.

He used to be a pati- ent here once which is why he bought her so quick. She told me she hate livin' in Australia and gettin' the treatment was good because she don't have to think about it no more now anyway. Her brains is gone she said. She go to think about somethink and it go away. It'd be good to be like that wouldn't it. You'll like him. He's a real nice man. Real good lookin'. He wait for her out in the car. He that concerned. We get a lot like that. Mothers and their sons doctor likes gettin' them. Husbands and wives. They all come in for treatment. One lot come in, its funny. He used a come in because he was depressed don't like Australia etc., so he used to bash her up, so doctor give him the treatment, and now she come in because she's depressed because she don't like livin' here or bein' bashed up all the time so now she have the treatment. They both come from Chile. Doctor was real important over there too once. They had heard of him he ran a children's hospital or somethink like that. Anyhow they're stuck here and they can't go back.

He'll be here in a minute. In a way I'll be sorry to go he's not bad to work for. You just got a make sure they go to the toilet first and that they don't smoke because he get that mad if they do.

SYDNEY FEMINISTS SEIZE THE NIGHT

On the night on International Women's Day a few women decided to get together and to SEIZE THE NIGHT i.e. to walk in solidarity through Kings Cross and proclaim their feelings towards the ugliness and machismo that always eminates from the Cross.

With some feelings of intrepidation we started, but the atmosphere lightened when we reached an arcade and took over and started dancing and singing. As we continued marching feelings of our vervacity strengthened and one woman started chanting "Women are not sexual commodities" and it was quickly taken up by the sixty other women. Strip club bouncers stared menacingly and tried to smile or be cocky to the other ocker onlookers.

The next sex shop we arrived at, a bouncer ran out and started to maul the nearest women available as the windows came under blows, so a few women tried getting into him. A woman photographed him which infuriated him even more. We then decided to go before he called for assistance from his Mafia mates.

Such actions will be repeated till the sexploitation of women, which inevitably leads to the misery or all, is stopped.

Then the glebe project (a Comm-onwealth $low-rent$ estate) scabs moved in with their beau-tification pogrom and tinned up the windows.

The Occupiers and their friends held a demo outside the project orifice-Fascination House on Monday the 13th of March. FREE THE LI-L-CHE 40 MILLION POLITICAL PRISONERS IN CHINA

Last March in Canton, Chi -na, an unnamed Peking off -icial, replied to questio -ns by the New York Times on the subject of politica -l prisoners in China, by stating, "A few intellectu -als deprived of speech is only a minor question. In the Soviet Union, the work -ers, the peasants and the intellectuals are all be-ing oppressed."

He went on to say, "China is the country where human rights are best observed. Over 95% of the population enjoy human rights, and the other 5%, if they are receptive to re-education, they can also enjoy human rights."

Simple mathematics shows that 5% of an 800 million people is an alarming 40 million, and there's no reason not to believe that the number is actually much higher. Even though the Chinese government goes to great lengths to point out that they are only the'legal' representatives and capitains of the Chinse 'Worker's State' (and many people around the world have been suckered in to this sham) there is absolutely no proof, in the face of recent history , that these tyrants are any less the liars than their Western bretheren - just more crass.

In a letter sent to us by the 70's Front(a group of Chinese libertarians, including several Red Guards living in Hong Kong) comes the information on a few of the 40 million(plus) people that the Peking Govt. has deemed "counter-revolutionary."

Shortly before the most recent power struggle and purge involving the defeat of the so called "Gang of Four" by the right-wing of the Chinese bureaucracy , the massive military machine arrested a group of ex-Red Guards and ultra-leftists who went under the collective pseudonym of Li-l-Chi . Their "crime" was the pub -lication of a giant wall poster entitled "Concernin -g Socialist Democracy and the Legal System; Dedicat-ed to Chairman Mao," even though the Chinese Consti-tution states that "Citize -ns have the freedoms of speech, communication, association, demonstration and the right to strike." (Chapter 3, Article 28)

The poster was a descript ion of what has been happ-ening in China since the so called Cultural Revolut -ion, criticizing the "Red Capitalists who use prive-lege and the legal system to exploit the Chinese pe-ople and crush any form of resistance to their rule."

Li-l-Chi's fate was seal-ed when the vice-premier of the State Council of Ch -ina, LiHsien-nien, label-ed them as "reactionary th -rough and through, viciou -s,and malicious to the ex treme," terms that have been used all to many time -s as a prelude to the dis -appearance of those who dare challenge the prevail -ing ideas of the bureaucr acy.

The Chinese authorities identified LiCheng-t'ien, who lived in Wuhan, as the major author of the big ch -aracter poster and have paraded him in front of va -rious army units and mass meetings for public "crit-icism" and humiliation. After five months of inqui -ring about the whereabout -s of Li and his comrades by friends in Hong Kong, news has come from Canton saying that authorities have sentenced the members of Li-l-Chi to Labor Refor -m Camps(prisons) for bein -g "counter-revolutionary".

The letter from the '70's Front also informed us of another ex-Red Guard membe -r, Yang Hsi-kuan, who, in 1968 was arrested for publ -ishing a now famous wall poster, "Whither China." He was arrested ten years ago, and although he shou-ld have been released by now, Yang has disappeared and the Chinese government refuses to give out any in -formation on him.

These four people are but a small percentage of the political prisoners in Ch -ina (whose number is grea -ter than the population of many countries), but the campaign by the '70's Front to free them is only the beginning of a concen-trated effort to free all Chinese political prisoner -s. The front has sponsore -d demonstrations at Chin eses embassies around the world and has available stickers in English, Frenc -h, and Chinese calling for the release of Li-l-Chi and are available alon -g with other information on the situation from The '70's Front, 80 Lockhart Rd, st Floor, Wanchi, Hong Kong.

SHANTUNG PROVINCE: The Chinese people have a new hero, accord-ing to the Peking People's Daily. He is Teng Hsiang-erh, a Shantung coal miner who is being hailed as a model worker. To earn this distinction, Teng did the followiong: refused to take time off for his honey moon, never took a vacation in 28 years, worked on his days off, and stayed at work instead of caring for his terminally -ill mother. However the acc--laim is not unanimous. Accord -ing to Japanese reporters in Peking, many of Teng's fellow coal miners think he's a fruit cake.

PEKING: The New China News Age -ncy said the 22nd Nuclear Test(September 17th) "was a victory anew achieved by the workers, commanders, and fight -ers of the Chinese People's Liberation Army, scientists, technicians, and revolutionary cadres engaged in the research manufacture, and testing of nuclear weapons". Last year, China radiated the world's working class four times.

Varvara Kucherenko, from Moscow, has been committed to a psychiatric clinic after trying to set up an independent trade union.

THE RETURN OF THE INTERNATIONAL COLD TREASON RESISTANCE

CHILE: Thousands of miners participated in a strike at the El Teniente mine in late November or early December. The workers demanded payment of production bonuses and advances. The Government labeled the strike a case of "labor absenteeism", but was forced to pay up. It was also reported that there were "slowdown" strikes during the same period in Valparaiso (the second-largest city) and San Antonio. The recent labor unrest has led Pinochet to summon 300 representatives of the Government-controlled trade unions to an urgent meeting at which he announced that the situation would be studied and the possibility of returning to collective-bargaining agreements, which were suspended following the bloody coup of September 1973, would be considered. (Granma)

ADELAIDE: The wife of a viciously assaulted police sergeant at Tailem Bend, about 130km east of Adelaide, said yesterday that their four years in the town had been made loathsome by larrikins.

The officer in charge of the Tailem Bend police station, Sgt E. J. Lee, was beaten unconscious yesterday morning while in the final hour of his last shift.

"This is a good going-out gesture from the locals," said Mrs Lee.

She said she and her husband had been constantly harassed in Tailem Bend by young people.

Stones had been thrown on their roof and a pig's head put outside their front door.

Sgt Lee was one of two policemen assaulted at the town yesterday.

The other was Constable D. J. Clarke (24) who was taken to the Lower Murray district hospital suffering severe concussion and bruising.

Sgt Lee (45) was taken to Royal Adelaide Hospital unconscious and with bruises on the head and body.

GET ★ FUCKED

Political violence has grown with frightening speed in Italy. There were 702 incidents of political terrorism in 1975. In 1976 the figure was 1198. Last year it was 2128.

ROME.

The nation reacted with shock. Ugo La Malfa, like Moro a respected party leader, declared: "We are in a civil war."

A police officer at the scene of the kidnapping was heard to shout: "Enough: They will kill us all."

DROP ★ DEAD!

The leader of the extreme right in Parliament, Giorgio Almirante, proposed that the Interior Minister be replaced immediately by an Army Officer.

On the testimony of these and other participants in the Italian political and social process the terrorists ought to be pleased. The Red Brigades, in their own words, want to strike at the heart of the state and to create a revolutionary situation.

Their proclaimed goal is to disrupt the political order, goad the politicians into scrapping democratic rights and touch off a civil war in which politics would be reduced to a shoot-out between the revolutionaries and the ruling class.

SATURDAY 22/10-SUNDAY 23/10: All the editors of anarchist and libertarian papers are a arrested as "moral perpetrators" of the "incidents": Kiriakos Vasiliadis, editor of "Here and Now", Michalis Protopsaltis, editor of "The Cocq", Mikos Balis, editor of "When...", and Herodes Bakoviannis, editor of "Socialism or Barbarism". It should be noted that "Here and Now" and "The Cocq" have never published a second issue; their only issue appeared a year ago and their editors have already been persecuted. "When" ceased to appear at its 3rd issue, dating from early '76. Only "Socialism or Barbarism" has appeared this year; it's a review published at irregular intervals of more than 6 months; its 3rd and last issue appeared on May '77! Also arrested as "moral perpetrators": Mikos Asimopoulos, a libertarian composer-singer and bookseller, and Yiannis Felekis, editor of the trotskyist paper "The Barricade". Vasiliadis is also incriminated for "possession of arms": after a search at his house, the police found the classic stick and piece of chain, and also an axe, no less!

MONDAY 24/10: At Athens three trials are held in a climate of unprecedented police terror: 1) 18-years old Langadinou is sent to prison for 1½ year, for "troubling the public peace" and "complicity to damage for foreign property", because a shop-keeper had testified that he had seen her belonging to a group of demonstrators one of whom later broke the glass of his shop. This shopkeeper, the only witness of accusation, did not come to the trial! 2) Konstantinidis is sent to prison for 3½ years, for "injuries against the authorities" and "resistance to authority". Even the procurator, based exclusively on what the witnesses concerning the "resistance"! 3) 17-years old Tsachtsiris is sent to prison for 2 years, for "troubling the public peace" and "damage to foreign property"; Sofia Panagiotidou is acquitted.

WHY IS IT important to be so interested in what happens abroad? Sometimes people get so angry about repression 1,000, 2,000 or even 12,000 miles away that they forget or avoid their own doorstep.

However, feeling solidarity with people all over the world is something natural - "While there is a soul in prison (anywhere) I am not free" - and cuts across all national boundaries.

The other reason we are internationalists is that we realise that the State divides us, the better to rule us, both within and between countries and that revolutions have flowered only to be crushed, isolated from fellow workers all over the world. The success of our social revolution will be in its vitality and strength to spread world-wide.

Likewise, faced by a specific attack on the Anarchist movement in a particular country, it is the international Anarchists who respond as can be seen by the widespread rage over the threatened hanging of Marie and Noel Murray in Dublin last year.

EAST EUROPE

I picked up a paper - "Labour Focus on E. Europe" - recently and thought it would be the usual load of boring Trotskyist analysis. Instead it contained information of resistance throughout the Iron Curtain countries which is encouraging in the light of the severe repression there. We hear a little about intellectual dissidents, but nothing about working-class action.

EAST GERMANY

During the 28th anniversary celebrations of the founding of this particularly nauseous state, serious clashes took place between young people and the police in East Berlin's main square lasting several hours and involving hundreds, some say thousands of people. This was a spontaneous response to the cancellation of a jazz concert after an accident, but quickly turned into a political riot.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA

A rock concert, part of an official folk Festival in Kdyne, had been planned for August 13th, but when the organisers saw 1,200 young and long-haired people they tried to cancel it. Everyone demanded their money back, and in the ensuing fight armoured cars sent in to clear the area were overturned and a train set on fire. Two police deaths were reported and 100 people injured. The police scarpered to a local school, their tear gas, truncheons and dogs having failed them. Many local people urged on the kids. This is the first large-scale confrontation with the State since '69. Meanwhile the Charter 77 human rights group is growing here.

RUSSIA

On 10th October 15,000 people in Lithuania marched through the streets of Vilnius overturning cars and burning police cars, and ripping down the 60th anniversary propaganda posters. Security police tried to get control but those arrested were freed by the crowd. The trouble started at a football match against a Smolensk team when members of the crowd began to shout "Russians go home" and "Katsapy", a derogatory word for Russians. A live broadcast mysteriously ended as the chanting was heard over the radio.

ROUMANIA

On 1st August, in reaction to a Pension Law which would have cut wages, miners in Lupeni struck and this spread through all the mines in the Jin Valley, involving 90,000 workers. The whole region was declared a "prohibited area" and the army was sent in to "restore order". This failed and the strike remained solid, demanding retirement at 50, no Pension Law, better working conditions and job security, a 6-hour day, free movement of labour, adequate food supplies, replacement of present mine managers, free working clothes, no unpaid overtime and a return to the rights won in the '55-'57 struggles.

Two central committee members were sent to negotiate and were arrested by the miners. Three days later Ceausescu (Um Big Chief) himself came and was greeted by 35,000 miners, shouting "Down with the proletarian bourgeoisie!". After five hours discussion with delegates he said he'd concede all the demands. However, on return to work, 4,000 miners were arrested, sacked or dispersed, the military occupied the mines and the Jin Valley was sealed off from the rest of Roumania.

The miners desperately tried to resist, sending delegates to railway workers in Bucharest for support. They also sent letters abroad - here are some extracts:

"We are being watched to prevent us communicating with foreigners, but perhaps at the risk of our lives we send this to you."

"Secret policemen who we call 'party cops' have infiltrated the mines. As soon as they hear you muttering a word they take you away and beat you really badly."

"They started to sack us. I myself have worked down the mines for 23 years... I'm 46 years old, I am ill and have four kids."

"... there has been a strike in a Socialist State. There are more to come, and we think that all we have left is to set out to forge our own justice, with axes, scythes and anything else.... For every two workers there are five with briefcases. That's justice in Roumania for you!"

However, in September there were disturbances in the textile mills of Brasov and in the huge heavy machinery plant in Bucharest.

POLAND

Here the strongest resistance is growing. Political papers are appearing including "Robotnik" - "The Worker" - which aims to be a channel of communication for workers attempting to win their immediate demands in the face of the "moribund official unions". It carries information on strikes and defence groups and about repression in general.

In the universities a student organisation, with a consciously libertarian flavour, has been established.

Polish Party leader Edward Gierek said this in a private speech:

"The most active and best organised opposition to our Socialist State, and enjoying some influence among the young, has a revisionist pedigree with neo-trotskyist and anarchist links. It is they who launched a theory of a new class of exploiters and proposed a second socialist revolution"

We rarely carry news about what goes on in Communist countries and I hope this has been an eye-opener. The world over - the same class-struggle.

The ones in this house aren't much. They're mainly by Australians but at the other house he's got lots of real antiques. He's got seven toilets in that house. He's only got five here. I think it'd be nice to have a house with seven toilets don't you? He use the toilets here to pile his paintings up in if you want to have a look at some more. You got a dust them down every day too. I nearly died laughin' the other day when he brought this sculpture from some famous artist. He brought it across the phone in a real hurry to beat all the other doctors to it. Laugh. You should of seen his face when he brought it home. It was just a lump of iron sheetin'. He threw it out in the back yard. Jeeze it terrible what them artist get away with these days isn't it.

He'll be here in a minute. I think I nearly got everythink ready. Sometime he don't do no treatment at all he just give them some of this vitamin stuff with some valium in it. Not much for sixty dollars is it. Not like if you got somethink else like the treatment. For his dinners you can get some of the tinned food from the deli. What else? These head thinks. You put them in the water every night before you go home so that they are good and wet and then they work better. Come out here and I'll show you where the machine is kept and we'll plug them in. He don't have no machine or nuffink for them if they choke. If they can't breathe properly and they choke or somethink just shove them over side ways on the beds. Or pull them so their heads hang over the side, and just leave them. A lot of them choke but doctor days its their own fault. Doctor don't worry about it, so I don't neither.

The secretary says they're going to bring Mrs. Gudinski around from the hospital. She's been playin' up again apparantly tryin' to run away again. He get that mad when she does that. He's warned her berore about all the trouble she cause last time. They wanted to know why she was so bruised and thinks, but Doctor talked to them and it was o.k. She'll probably get two lots of the treatment today. That usually keeps her quiet for a while. Sometime I think he do it to her too much you know. Give her six or seven lots some days. Still it's none of my business is it? I mean he must know what he's doin' mustn't he, he's a Doctor. Sad really she's real young lookin'. He don't really like her much neither.

Let's sit down for a minute before he come. Poor old Streaky gosh I feel that sorry for him. I don't know.

The other think the doctor said to tell you is that no one know they have the treatment. If any of them ask him he tell them its an evaluation machine. You have to work thinks so that none of them see each other have the treatment or nuffink so you have to be real careful and be real quick bringin' the machine. I usually hide it around the corner of the room and make sure the curtains are pulled around them so they can't see. You got a hold it so that the dials and thinks is next to you so they don't see them. You aren't allowed to tell them neither. If they ask you just say you don't know nuffink ask him. Most of them is too scared to ask him anyway. So its alright. If the other doctors ring up and want to know what their patients have been havin' you just tell them they only had the valium and nuffink else. Doctor don't speak to them on the phone so you have to tell them. The doctor said to tell you he don't want no one to know. The relatives nuffink. Doctor says if they do know it spoil the effect of the treatment. The Secretary showed me a letter they got from one of the hospitals demandin' to know how one of their patients got those lumps you know. What do you call them. Thrombosis. That's it thrombosis in their arms. Nuffink. The Doctor said don't tell them nuffink. The lumps will go away and the hospital must of been pretty stupid if they had to ask anyhow. So you see, its that important. Both to him and to them.

I think I might to down the street at lunch time seein' that you're here. And see the Ultima Lady at the chemist while I pick up some more Epontal. You don't need a script for that. If you get the time you write out a couple of books with the patients name of them and get him to sign them so you don't have to bother him about supplies then. These pimples i got are somethink terrible, and I want to get my face done up. Just to see what I look like you know. Like they do. Do you want a come. I'll introduce you to the chemist so he know what you look like in case he won't sign the scripts and you need some stuff. It'd be somethink to do anyhow. That man comin' in he know what the treatment is but he's the only one. He's been comin' here for nine years or somethink like that. You give him some nappy liners to stuff in his mouth so he don't bite his tongue. I think we'll have some frankfurters for dinner I like them don't you and some mashed potato. You have to bake him some kind of cake a couple of times a week too.

It's quite easy once you get the hang of it, you just got a be careful to keep your hands out of the way when he's doing' the treatment because jeeze it hurt if you get a shock of the head piece. Sometime I think he done it on purpose. It burnt all my fingers. You got a hold their chins real tight too or else they bite their tongue or break of bits of their teeth or somethink and then he had think of a reason to tell them why. You'll get the hang of it. Just go back every so often and see they haven't choked or somethink and when they wake up give them some coffee.

Jeeze here he come he better not catch us sittin' down. I think everythinks ready so I'll tell you what, if you do the treatment I'll bake a strudle."

Two Bondi people were recently arrested and have 6 charges against them for painting poliiti cal graffiti in Bondi Junction.

The case is being diligently defended as it involves the basic right of freedom of expression & right to graffiti. Date for the hearing is July 3rd at the Waverly court Bronte rd.

We think it would be an excellent oportunity for a demo in support of freedom of expression and right to graffiti outside the court on that day. So come along if u can: remember this is a very significant political rights trial. Warning the pig farm is right next door to the court.

LAWSON SQUARE
REDFERN, N.S.W., 2016

On the morning of Feb. 22 six pigs from ComPol (we have their card, believe it or not) the special drug division of the Commonwealth police, raided the squat at 89, Derwent St. The two occupants were charged with possession of prohibited plants under the N.S.W. Poisons Act. and taken to the T.N.T. building in Redfern. There in the air conditioned comfort of the 13th floor headquarters the squatters were first gently interogated, and when they refused to say anything were breakfasted and beyeraged by the two 24 year old pigs in charge of the bust. These two personable bright pigs names are Tim Robinson & Chris Milne, the latter being the instigator of the Commonwealth Police bust on the F.A.F. squat at Derwent St. the other day.

END OF GREEK LETTER

TUESDAY 25/10: At the trial of thos arrested at Thessaloniki, the procurator is obliged to propose acquittal concerning the charge of "disobedience to authority" because, as he declares, "nobody told them to disperse"! However, 10 persons are found guilty of various sorts of "injuries" against various "authorities" and "of troubling the public peace". Karabelias, 36 years, leader of a small maoist group, and Karakitsos, 27 years, are condemned to 2 years and 4 months and are led to prison; Katsaras (2 years and 1 month) and 7 others (1 year and 10 months for each) are set provisionally free till the trial in appeal; 3 others are acquitted.

The inquisition of the "moral perpetrators" is over. They cannot be accused of any act; so the typical questions are: "would you agree...?" "would you participate...", "do you condemn....?, "would you give us a name...?". Finally it is decided that they will stay at prison till the (still unknown) date of their trial.

On the same day, a protest is issued by the president of the Lawyers' Association of Athens, denouncing the "violation of human rights" and the verdicts "which evidently enter in contradiction with existing legislation". It is announced that both will be studies by commissions of the Lawyers' Association and that their conclusions will be published.

Down South

If the big cities, big taxes, and big labour are sending your operating costs right through the ceiling here's five good reasons why Queensland is just the right kind of place for you to do business.

I LABOUR PEACE

Queensland is the only state that is totally free of union problems. That's because we control the unions.

II. CONTINUOUS RISING PROFITS

Leading companies such as B.H.P., M.I.M., Utah Mines all agree to a prosperous future in Queensland through minerals such as uranium which Queensland has in such high quantities.

III. LOWER TAXES AND NO DEATH DUTIES

High taxes and death duties penalise the elderly and productive forces who have made Queensland what it is today. Queensland raises the funds from people with no property through high taxes on low income earners and social security recipients and on consumer products. Queensland penalises parasites, not producers. Queensland is also a cheap place to die.

IV. QUIETNESS

Queensland is very quiet all the time.

V. CULTURE

Queensland is a short thirty minutes from Sydney with its fabulous live theatres, cabarets, foreign restaurants and museums.
